

Join the AMC Competition at VERTICON 2027

The Aerospace Maintenance Council (AMC) is excited to bring back the maintenance competition at VERTICON in Anaheim, March 15-17, 2027.

This exciting event will bring together aviation maintenance professionals, military technicians, and students from around the world to demonstrate their skills, compete with industry peers, and celebrate excellence in aviation maintenance.

Ways to Participate

Build a Team

Companies, military organizations, and educational institutions are invited to assemble a 3-person competition team to compete in hands-on aviation maintenance challenges.

Team registration opens October 1, 2026.

Host a Competition Event

Industry organizations can showcase their expertise by hosting a competition event that challenges participants and highlights technical skills critical to aviation maintenance.

Become a Sponsor

Support the aviation maintenance technician community while gaining visibility among industry leaders and future professionals. Sponsorship demonstrates your commitment to workforce development and industry excellence.
